Please join us for an educational, networking, and support gathering for current or potential resisters. The gathering will include panels, how-to sessions, small group discussions, and strategizing, plus home-grown entertainment, and more. It will include support and new connections for those already resisting and history, how to's, risks and rewards for those new to the idea or considering war tax resistance. Held in concert with the semi-annual meeting of the National War Tax Resistance Coordinating Committee (NWTRCC), activists from around the U.S. will participate. Come for one session or the full weekend.
